

Our Nursery Newsletter

Dear Parents / Guardians,

Friday 9th October 2015

This week in nursery we have been talking about Autumn. We have read some interesting books about the signs to look out for and some of the children have become 'autumn detectives' and have collected things on their way to and from nursery to put on our 'Autumn' display table.

So far we have got some interesting red leaves, some conkers and some fir cones! If you're out and about at the weekend and you see anything else that you think we could put on our nature table, we would be most grateful (we are desperate for some acorns and some 'helicopters' but any autumn 'signs' at all would be most appreciated!)

The children have made some lovely autumn pictures too and have used leaf shaped sponges to print some seasonal pictures for our wall display.

We have also done some more work on our 'being healthy' topic and we have found out how important sleep is. The children were really surprised to learn that sleep plays such a big factor in keeping us healthy. We found out that a good night's sleep will help to give us lots of important energy so that we can play and have fun. If we don't get enough sleep we can become very grumpy and it can be hard for us to concentrate. We talked about our bedtime routines and the children were very keen to share with us their own routines from home.

Just a reminder that it is our parents evening next week (Monday 12th and Tuesday 13th October). There are still some time slots available if you still wish to make an appointment. Please write you're child's name in a vacant slot that is convenient to yourself.

We look forward to seeing you next week

Mrs Jones

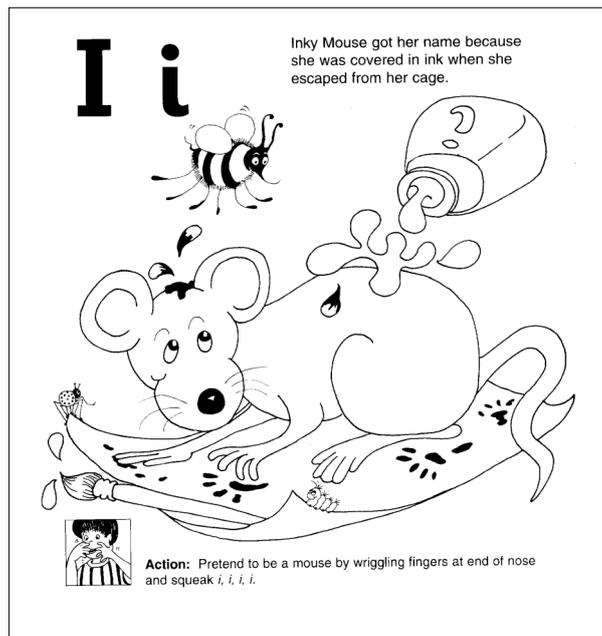

Mrs Eley

Miss Search

Jolly Phonics

This week in nursery we have learnt about the letter 'i' and the sound that it makes. We have learnt the accompanying action and also practised singing the special jolly phonics song.

We have also revised and revisited the other letters that we looked at last week.

Jolly Phonics

This week in nursery we have learnt about the letter 'i' and the sound that it makes. We have learnt the accompanying action and also practised singing the special jolly phonics song.

We have also revised and revisited the other letters that we looked at last week.

