Friday 9th December 2022

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We are very proud of how all of our children performed in our musical journey through the nativity story. Your little ones have had so much fun preparing for their show. As they have learnt the words and actions of the songs that accompany each part of the Christmas story, they have grown in confidence and today, they shone like Christmas stars.

Following the children's interest in Christmas toys, we have been exploring toys that we played with when we were babies and toys that we play with now. Using the vocabulary of past, present and a long time ago, we talked about what was the same and what was different about the toys that we explored. We also discussed an artefact, a teddy bear from a very long time ago. We handled it carefully, comparing it to a present-day toy.

At St Anne Stanley, we know that Christmas is about more than the Christmas Story. It is about quality family time with our loved ones. Winter is a magical time and your homework this week is to discover some of the magic of this chilly season. Wrap up warm and enjoy a winter walk, looking for signs of the season.

Seasons Greetings from Reception B
